

Investor awareness programme today

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Mysuru: The National Stock Exchange (NSE) in association with National Securities Depository Limited (NSDL) and SDMIMD will be organizing an investor awareness programme at the SDM Institute for Management Development (SDMIMD) campus on Chamundi Hill Road on Friday.

M Sriram, assistant professor in finance, SDMIMD, said, "The basic idea of the programme is to sensitize public at large to investment avenues in capital markets. The regulatory authority is of the view that awareness on investments in capital markets is very low among the public. To increase the awareness level, NSE is taking a series of initiatives, and one such initiative is the lecture on Thursday. The programme will broadly cover topics including avenues of investments, rights and obligations of investors and how to manage one's portfolio." The programme will begin at 6pm.

The programme will be helpful for both investment novices as well as those who have already invested, and have persistent doubts about the markets

"The programme is open to public and there is no registration fee. The programme will be helpful for both investment novices as well as those who have already invested, and have persistent doubts about the markets. The platform will provide an opportunity for the participants to interact with officials from NSE, NSDL, and Integrated Enterprises Ltd (Depository Participant). N R Parasuraman, director, SDMIMD, and other officials will be delivering talks during the programme. The event will culminate with a question and answer session," he added.