

Students win short film contest

Special Correspondent

MYSORE: The short film 'Who am I' by the students of Shri Dharmasthala Manjunatheshwara Institute for Management Development (SDMIMD) emerged the winners at the BoroPlus All-India Short Film Making Contest 2014 held recently. This year's theme was 'crime against women'.

A total of 14 short films were shortlisted for the final round. The entries were judged by a jury headed by Ad guru Alyque Padamsee, said a release from SDMIMD.

Himanshu Singh Gurjar, Omkar Rajyaguru, Piyush Kumar, Aastha Vyas and Ashwin S. Prasad presented the short film at the contest.

"The film could not have been made without the support of the SDMIMD student community," the students said. The short film is available on the following link: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=PuYXIbhFHkk>
